Re: How to Read a Game Serial Number

Merit Industries has implemented a new form of game serialization beginning with the Megatouch Force product line. Use the following key to interpret the serial number of your game.

MMDDYYTTGGNNNN

MM = two digit month of manufacture

DD = two digit day of manufacture

YY = last two digits in year of manufacture

TT = two-digit tracking code (usually 00, can be changed to track special circumstances)

0L = Mega-Lease

GG = two-digit code representing game series/model

00 = Force Classic

10 = Force Elite

20 = Force Radion

30 = Force Upright

40 = Conversion Kits

50 = Vibe Display (Bill)

51 = Vibe Processor (Bill)

52 = Vibe PC

53 = Vibe Display (Coin)

54 = Vibe Processor (Coin)

60 = Megatouch Combo Jukebox

61 = MegaTunes

62 = Remote Sound System

70 = OEM

71 = VIPS

80 = eVo (Bill)

81 = eVo (Coin)

82 = eVo (Bill & Coin)

83 = eVo (Non-Revenue)

90 = Force Fusion

A0 = Mr. VIPS

NNNN = 4 digit sequential number of game produced during the day

Example:
